Coleman Parade To Be Greatest Of All

Coleman's 11th annual Rodeo Parade held in conjunction with their annual Rodeo will be much more colorful and larger than any parade ever held in the Crows Nest Pass.

To date, Parade Marshal Chief Ed Corson stated 167 entries of all kinds have been registered. These include floats, decorated cars, patrol teams, RCMP, Scouts, Cubs and 12-bands — 15,000 persons at least are expected to witness Alberta's largest town parade, that will get under way at 12 noon on Saturday, July 6, 1957, in the town of Coleman.

Bands are entered from the west coast and as far east as Winnipeg, Man. Large number of visitors is expected to witness this parade on their way to the Calgary Stampede which takes place on July 8th.

All float winners of last year have again entered, a few of last year's winners were Blairmore Board of Trade, Holy's Dancing School, Bodo Lumber, Burns Lumber and Sick's Ginger Ale, winner of the parade marshal's award.

Many clowns, cowgirls, cowboys and children on wagons and bicycles have also entered in this coming parade.

The entire parade route will most likely be decorated again with Christmas trees by the local Canadian Legion, who have done such wonderful jobs in the past years.

The parade will be set out in 12 sections, each section being approximately 100 yards apart. The

Old Age Pensioners' Convention Held in Coleman, Wed., June 19

A most successful convention was held in the Union hall, Coleman, last Wednesday. About 140 delegates and members of the Old Age Pensioners' Association from Taber, Lethbridge, Fort Macleod, Pincher Creek and the Crows Nest Pass in attendance.

The convention opened with registration at 9:30 a.m. in charge of Mrs. R. Parry and Mrs. Kostelnik.

The registering being completed the meeting was called to order by President A. Frayn of Lethbridge, and the singing of "O Canada". A prayer by Rev. Muir of Fort Macleod, with a minute silence being observed in honor of departed members.

Major Abousayf of Coleman extended greetings to all present, and hoped they have an enjoyable and successful day, stating that the older people of Coleman were steady fast citizens and briefly sketched life with a swift flowing river, quoting the Arkansas. At the beginning the stream is strong and vigorous as compared to youth—moving on the water is used for irrigation and power as compared to life in middle age. As the river flows on to its destination the stream gradually slows down, old age and during this time human life should enjoy happiness and contentment and keep smiling through.

Mr. William Kovach, MLA, extended greetings to all present on behalf of the Alberta government, and spoke of the happy conditions of the aged people of today and stated the security of which they now enjoyed was a brighter picture than in the years of his youth and wished them every success and that at the next session of the Alberta government he would endeavor to do his utmost for them.

Mrs. Nora Gouling, national secretary of the provincial branch and president of the Coleman group welcomed all and hoped they enjoyed the day, the convention a success and their stay a pleasant one.

The minutes of the last convention held at Taber were then read by Mrs. Cunningham of Lethbridge with the financial statement showing a balance of $97.51.

The meeting was then adjourned for lunch, with a delicious turkey dinner and all the trimmings being served in the Elks hall by the ladies of the O.O.R.P.

Grace was given by Rev. Muir, and short address given by President A. Frayn, Mayor Abousayf and Mr. Kovach.

It is of interest to note that the Alberta government contributed $125. Mr. Kovach a personal gift and balance by the town of Coleman towards the expenses of the dinner.

Community singing was then enjoyed, led by Mrs. J. Kostelnik, with Mrs. J. Spivack at the piano.

A Rheumatism Song and Band brought down roars of laughter.

Those taking part were Madames A. Jones, D. Wavrean, E. Petruk, I. Caroe, J. Kugis, M. D'Amico, M. Zak, E. Nelson, H. Caroe and K. Cornett, with Mrs. H. Caroe leading the band.

Souvenirs of Coleman were donated by the following merchants: Mr. J. Chalmers, Zak's, W. Dutill, and Aldo Montalbetti, to all out of town visitors.

Mr. O. Celli donated pencils to all attending the convention.

Coffee breaks during the convention was ably handled by Madames A. Dick, M. Gate and E. Fullier.

A solo Bless This House, was rendered by Mrs. E. Kostelnik as a closing number of the luncheon party.

The meeting was adjourned at 2:30 p.m. in the Union hall and was called to order.

The election of officers with Mrs. Nora Gouling as chairman.

President, A. Frayn, re-elected. 1st vice-president, Mr. A. A. Nedow, Fort Macleod.

2nd vice-president, Mrs. Nora Gouling, Coleman.

3rd vice-president, Mr. Love, of Taber.

4th vice-president, Mr. F. S. Martin, Pincher Creek.

Secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Cunningham, Lethbridge.

Auditors, Mr. A. A. Nedow and Mr. Griffin, Fort Macleod.

Mr. W. Bullock, chairman of the Pension Board, then gave a beneficial and uplifting talk on various pensions, stating that Alberta was the only province in the Dominion paying a pension to widows at the age of 60 years, and that they were endeavoring to do their utmost to help the aged, the blind and the disabled citizens of Alberta.

A question period was then held when many questions and matters of doubt were very ably dealt with by Mr. Gallo.

Resolutions were then dealt with and adopted: (1) A request that pension cheques be mailed at a more convenient date; (2) An annual cheque be granted to spinners reaching the age of 60 years;

(3) That drugs, medicines, etc. for arthritis and chronic cases be paid for; (4) Whereas there is a need for a contributory old age pension scheme in Canada whereby the employers, employees and the government all contribute and whereas many young people are making high wages and salaries and many are doing little or nothing to prepare for their old age, therefore be it resolved we ask the governments concerned to set up a compulsory contributory old age pension plan similar to those in force in many other countries.

A report of each group was then read.

Mrs. Gouling gave an interesting report of the Coleman branch activities for the past year.

A convention draw in charge of Mrs. J. Derbyshire and Mrs. J. Rushton was then made. Mrs. Solvang of Lethbridge won the draw with ticket number 58.

Mrs. J. Rushton of Coleman gave a vote of thanks to President A. Frayn and all present for the success of the convention in which the convention had been conducted.

Mr. A. Frayn, president, thanked and complimented Mrs. Nora Gouling, president of the Coleman branch, and Secretary, Mrs. E. Kostelnik of Coleman branch, for the wonderful work they are carrying on with this group. He also extended a vote of thanks to Mrs. E. Goddard of Fort Macleod, to which they very ably responded.

The place for the next convention was then set, (the delegates from Lethbridge inviting them to that city).

Remarks . . . At this time remarks were made by various guests — Mr. T. Price of Bellevue, stated that it was a memorable day for him as it was 42 years ago that he witnessed the Hillcrest mine explosion which was a sad memory, but today would always hold happy memories.

The meeting was then adjourned for lunch, with a delicious turkey dinner and all the trimmings being served in the Elks hall by the ladies of the O.O.R.P.

Grace was given by Rev. Muir, and short address given by President A. Frayn, Mayor Abousayf and Mr. Kovach.

It is of interest to note that the Alberta government contributed $125. Mr. Kovach a personal gift and balance by the town of Coleman towards the expenses of the dinner.

$50,000 ALLLOTTED TO EMPLOY IDLE MINERS IN FORESTRY WORK

John Hogan, superintendent of the Blairmore forestry office received word late Friday that $50,000 has been allotted by a special order-in-council in Edmonton for the hiring of unemployed coal miners to do forestry work in the Crows Nest Pass area.

The approval to hire more men for forestry service was received from Stanley Hughes, administrator of the Eastern Rockies Forestry Conservation Board.

It is expected that the allotted money will place approximately 50 men in employment until late fall.

Mr. Hughes and other forestry officials are expected to arrive in the Pass region early next week to supervise the hiring and the placing of the men.

Since the Greenhill mine at Blairmore closed earlier this year, unemployed miners have been placed in work at other mines at Michel, in sawmill work, highway construction and only a few have moved away.

Organizational Picnic Held Sunday

Newrick Spooner of Bellevue Passes

A goodly number of Coleman residents and former Coleman residents, now residing in Calgary, spent a very enjoyable Sunday afternoon together on the Kananaskis forestry road.

The occasion was an informal get together with a view to starting what will perhaps become an annual event.

This novel idea originated with former Colemanite Percy Dickenson. The plan is to converge two caravans of cars at the Cat Creek Camp Shelter, 3 miles north west of the Highwood River Crossing. There against the backdrop of beautiful mountain scenery a reunion of old friends and former citizens of Coleman will be held. A grassy plain served as the meeting spot where the organizers set Aug. 26 as the great day.

Watch for further announcements and publicity.

Funny and Otherwise

The madam of the house was feeling blue and to relieve her depressed mood confided to her maid, "I think my husband is having a love affair with his secretary."

"I don't believe it," retorted the maid. "You're only saying that to make me jealous."

There are two kinds of cleverness! One consists of thinking of a reply before it's time to say it. The other consists of thinking of it in time not to say it.

Any girl who knows all the answers has undoubtedly been out with a lot of questionable characters!

The Colonel stormed into the outpost, complaining that he had been fired at all the way up the line by German snipers. Calling his sharpshooters together, he ordered them to eliminate the snipers.

Presently, seeing movement, a sharpshooter fired, and a German soldier fell to the ground. At nightfall the soldier crept out and brought the dead German in. "That'll teach you to miss our colonel!" he said.

"It's not easy to get ahead in this world," a businessman of my acquaintance assured a young friend. "As a lad I started out at the bottom. I worked, struggled, sweated, climbing the ladder of life hand over hand, ruing by myself."

"Am I now," interposed the friend, "you are a great success?"

"Well, no," admitted the business man, "but I'm getting mighty good at climbing ladders." —Rotary Bulletin.

Two automobile mechanics were heard discussing upholstery materials.

One said, "Which do you prefer, leather or fabric upholstery?"

The other mechanic replied, "I like fabric; leather is too hard to wipe your hands on."

It was a fitful day. The recruits were "dumb". Private Smith was the dumbest of them all. The sergeant strode up to him. "What was your job in civil life?" he barked.

"Bank clerk," replied Smith.

"I suppose," sneered the sergeant, "you dusted the desks and washed out the ink-wells, and made nice cups of tea for the manager?"

"Oh, no," replied Smith. "We kept an old sergeant for those jobs."

Eligible voters down about 400

The enumeration of voters in Wetaskiwin Constituency for the forthcoming Federal election shows a total of 25,163 eligible voters, a decrease of very close to 400 voters throughout the riding in the past four years.

The boundaries of the riding were changed just before the 1953 election and have remained the same for the vote on June 10. It comprises all or parts of four provincial constituencies—about 5,000 square miles in all. On the south it borders on the constituency of Lac La Biche, and on the north just north of Leduc. It extends from Bitter Lake on the east to beyond the North Saskatchewan river on the west.

Most of the strictly agricultural polls show at least a slight decline in the number of registered voters.

NEIGHBORLY NEWS C.B.C.

C. F. GREENE

Good morning, neighbors:

Attending a weekly newspaper convention recently, we were distressed to hear that the time of our broadcast was too early for some good neighbors in certain areas of the west—due to time changes. We are not so vain as to think that these neighbors should be up in the morning to listen to us—but Grace Wright had a little poem in the Olds Gazette, Alberta, recently which gives a reason for early rising. The verse entitled "Sunrise" read:

New every morning, yet so old,

The sun rises in a rosy glow

To liven the mounting white and gold.

Long before it shines below,

Yet those who do not care to rise

As early as the dawn's first light,

Must miss the glory of the skies

Uncovered by the passing night.

Can just one hour of sleep be lost?

The loss of such a chance as this—

The chance to find, so rare on earth—

A moment fraught with perfect bliss?

Probably having to get up very early at times has been the experience of Mike Pohorski, of Lethbridge, Saskatchewan—the Meltonian stalwart. After 40 years carrying mail, Mr. Pohorski has given the job of watching for the train, but will still be the postmaster, as the mail comes by truck now. Mr. Pohorski served 10 years at Tryfield, Saskatchewan, 10 years at Zelien, Manitoba, and 20 years at Lethbridge.

That's forty years, and we see by the Drumheller Mail, Alberta, that the Hand Hills District Stampede is the oldest consecutively running Stampede in Alberta and that Mrs. Leslie Fleet has attended 40 Stampedes—a perfect attendance record.

Another type of record is mentioned by the Elmwood Herald, Manitoba, in its report that the other day, an interesting event took place at Melrose Junior High School when an Award of Merit certificate was presented to J. M. Hawryuk, principal, by John Bruce, chairman of the Manitoba March of Dimes committee, on behalf of the Society for Crippled Children and Adults in Manitoba.

Bruce in speaking of the stampede and our for their recent contribution of $152 stated that Melrose School was the first school ever presented with a Certificate of Merit in Manitoba.

A first time effort is noted in the Wetaskiwin Times, Alberta, with its report that Bill Gust is the latest local golfer to become a member of that select group, who have scored a hole-in-one. Bill's first deserved special mention because it was made on the local golf course's first hole, 203 yards par 3. This was the first time in the history of the club that a hole-in-one has been made on this particular hole. Also, Bill was a beginner last year with the club.

Another Alberta paper, the Wainwright Star gets in on this golfing record by stating: It is reported that our president, Ed

Wanders made a hole-in-one on the 4th hole the other day. The only thing wrong was that it was a gopher hole and not the cup. Last report from on the spot observers say that he is still digging. Tough luck, Ed, comments the Star.

And tough luck seems to beset a certain Manitoba firefighter Volunteer Fire Brigade. According to the Hartney Star, Last year on the night of the fireman's ball, a fire alarm sent the brigade to the home of Harold Atkinson. This year on the morning of the fireman's ball, an alarm sent the crew to Ronald Atkinson's garage.

But Good Luck was the lot of a Manitoba farmer—as the result of good-neighboring spirit. The Pilot Mountain Sentinel notes that one day last week, a number of friends of James Stiff gathered at his farm to assist with spring seeding operations. With nine tractors and other necessary equipment in operation, the project was completed during the day—with time off for a hearty chicken dinner. Fuel for the tractors was provided by courtesy of the Midlet's own pipeline—and much appreciated.

Before we leave the farm scene, we must pass on this story told in the Didsbury Pioneer, Alberta. Old Ben had farmed his 360 acres for fifty years and had finally sold out. The auctioneer took his commission and handed Bill and his wife the roll of bills. "Well, now," said he, "I guess you're all ready to start that trip you've been talking about so long. Where are you going first?" Well stretched comfortably in his chair, Bill cracked a smile from his pipe. "Fishing," he said, "and I found a real good rest right off. We aim to find one of those tourist places in the mountains. The first week I'm just gonna set on the front porch in a rockin' chair. And the second week I'm gonna start rock."

"And I'm going to prosecute someone" declares a neighbor putting in this notice in the Watson Witness, Saskatchewan. Would the party that is interested in stripping my house at nights, please return the missing parts, or when caught will be prosecuted—signed, J. W. Zahara, Watson.

Well, you can't strip another form of transportation—the horse—and we see by the Cardston News of Steinbach, Manitoba, that the other Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Kohler of Rosseau River wanted to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Zacharias of St. Paul, Manitoba. "We had hard work," he said, "and I found a real good rest right off. We aim to find one of those tourist places in the mountains. The first week I'm just gonna set on the front porch in a rockin' chair. And the second week I'm gonna start rock."

"Old Dobbin and The Shay," were very familiar to these old-timers recently celebrating birthday anniversaries in the ninety-ninth class. S. S. Grandpa Lee of Lethbridge, Alberta, 90, John Sharpe of Elbowoods, 91—R. H. Morris of Merritt, British Columbia, formerly of Neepawa, Manitoba, 93; Homer Treadaway of High River, Alberta, 92—and Mrs. Alice Lyons of Mapleton, Manitoba, 95 last Sunday.

Speaking of years, the Shellbrook Chronicle, Saskatchewan, reports that Miss Ann Shiering of Durban, South Africa, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Sophie Beckmeyer, and family. It is 31 years since the sisters last saw each other.

And we might feed a certain school teacher, according to this report in the Rapid City Reporter, Miss Margaret Wilkie having consented to the girls wearing slacks to school, one of the boys asked the question: "If the girls wore slacks, could the boys don skirts?" Miss Wilkie, little dreaming that it would happen, agreed that it would only be fair. On the last day of school before the Easter holidays after the dinner hour, Miss McCoy and Skipper Wright were observed in skirts. They also had on their usual attire, with pant legs rolled up out of sight.

And this scene in a farmyard must be quite a sight too. The Westlock Witness, Alberta, tells us that a motherly old sow on the farm of Mr. Louie Kaufman in the Clive district had raised a fine litter of 12 piglets. Another sow had a young litter by farmland, and the motherly old gal took over the hungry young ones and was doing a fine job of nursing them along. This is indeed unusual in the raising of pigs.

You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, they say—but you can make your town beautiful—if you really want to. For example the Virden Empire-Advance, Manitoba, hopes that Virden's 75th Anniversary Flower, the scarlet flame giant dahlia zinnia (red zinnia for short) will be blooming in the garden of the town's lower district during the week of July 21.

Wednesday morning of last week about 30 tractors, pieces of farm machinery and trucks, along with about 35 men, converged on the Carlson farm. By four o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Carlson's crop had been seeded and his summer-fallow work was done.

The whole effort was backed by the Midlet and District Board of Trade, assisted by the Midlet Homemakers Club.

A day of work would not be complete without the food, so the ladies assisted by neighbors of the Carlson's served a hot turkey dinner to the working men. An afternoons lunch rounded out the day of neighborhood activity, Midlet style.

Governor-General receives grand welcome from 2,000 in Melfort

Vincent Massey, Governor-General of Canada, was met by a crowd of 2,000 school children and adults when he paid a one hour visit to Melfort, Wednesday.

Arriving at the station at 12:30 noon D.S.T., His Excellency was met by Mayor S. B. Caskey and Hon. George Willis and representatives.

He then inspected a guard of honor composed of members of "B" company, First North Saskatchewan Regiment.

The party then proceeded by car to the Memorial Hall square, where the Governor-General inspected a guard of honor composed of members of the Canadian Legion and Legion Auxiliary, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Cubs, etc. The children were assembled in the square and after introduction to members of the council, educational and church officials, he was escorted to the platform, where Mayor Caskey read and then presented the address of welcome.

In replying, His Excellency remarked on his knowledge of Melfort and his pleasure in being able to visit here. He said he had a keen interest in the town's education. Lionel Massey, now his secretary, had some 10 years ago made a number of visits to Melfort.

Speaking to the children in a humorous vein he considered their keen interest in school and that he believed they enjoyed it so much, he would ask that they be permitted to attend school on Saturdays. However, concluding he reversed this opinion, and felt they would prefer a holiday instead. He then asked Mayor S. B. Caskey to grant a long day holiday to the school children, to be known as "The Queen's Holiday," a practice which the Queen's representative makes a first visit to a community. This announcement was met with loud cheers.

The assembled school children sang two songs, and the Melfort Citizens Band played "God Save the Queen" and "O Canada".

The vice-regal party then left for the Nursing Home, where Mr. Massey met some of the guests in the home. The tour continued past Brunswick school and returned to the station. At the station, Mr. Massey visited with the crowd on the platform, and was waving from the back-platform as the train pulled out for Saskatoon.—The Journal, Melfort, Sask.—May 16, 1957.

OF MANY THINGS
by Ambrose Hills
THE BEST VOYAGE

A friend and I had been to Selkirk watching workmen make ready the S.S. Keenora for the coming trips to Norway House, and we had been so enthralled we very nearly booked passage.

That evening, I told another old friend about the day, and how we had enjoyed it, fancying ourselves going to Norway House, then further along to the Bay, where so much of Manitoba's history began.

He listened, smiling. Then, perhaps because my face was flushed with pleasure at the prospects of such a journey, he said "Well, don't feel too bad about not making the actual voyage. Sometimes the very best adventures are only pure imagination."

Sound very wise to me, that observation so I nodded in agreement. "Guess you're right" I said.

"Bosh!" exclaimed my friend. "I'm not right, and you should know it. I'm surprised at you, agreeing with such poppycock. The adventures that are worthwhile are the real adventures, the trips you actually take, the things you get done. Never accept a dream in substitution for the real thing!"

So this summer, when the ship is made ready, I propose to be aboard her, and travel to Norway House. Perhaps the voyage will have less adventure than the one I'm dreaming of, but it will be real.

The best things always are the real things. To build a good, sound, solid garage is better than merely to dream of building castles. To write a few good sentences is better than merely to dream of turning out the great Canadian novel. To earn food, shelter and some leisure for your family is better than merely to dream of being a billionaire.

2500 Sheep Pastured North Of Coleman

While Coleman residents slept around 5 o'clock the other morning some 2500 sheep were counted and unloaded at the Coleman siding, ready for their trek into the pasture grounds north of Coleman.

The 2500 sheep, owned by Edwin Davidson of Coaldale, were loaded double-deck into nine CPR cattle cars Saturday evening and were hauled to Coleman, where they were unloaded and were taken to the pastures lands in the Vicary and Daisy Creek areas, along the Kananaskis highway, north of Coleman. The sheep, freshly sheared, will be kept in the mountain pastures until the end of September.

According to John McD. Davidson, who was present with the sheepmen, and whose son Edwin has now taken over the business since the father's retirement, the sheep have been brought to graze in this district for some thirty years.

Long Trail Ends

The elder Mr. Davidson recalled the days when sheep had to be trailed all the way from Lundbreck to the Pass, being brought to Lundbreck by train. Since the opening of the Kananaskis highway this practice has been cut out, saving much work and time for the men involved as the sheep can now be brought to Coleman, and taken directly onto the Kananaskis highway only a half mile from the railway siding.

Out of the 2500 sheep loaded, double-deck in the cars, only three of the animals perished, which, according to the sheepmen, was only a "very small loss" as the usual mortality averages about 5 or six sheep to a car.

When unloading, the sheep on the bottom platform were let out first and then a runway was built and hung up into the upper deck and sheep taken out of the cars.

Interesting to note was the fact that some of the sheep, when let out of their close confinement, leaped into the air seemingly to relax those cramped legs. The sounds around the unloading platform were just out of this world as some of the sheep with a Franklin Lane bleat, others with a gravel throat bleat, blended to form one of the meanest sounds imaginable.

One of the trainmen standing nearby, watching commented—"All that's missing with the sound here is a calypso beat."

After all of the sheep were unloaded, they were driven through the town of Coleman and taken up the Kananaskis Highway.

An American tourist in a trailer parked alongside the Catholic Church in Coleman also caused a chuckle. When the sheep started nearing the trailer, the sleeping tourist came out of the vehicle and asked: "Boy, what's all the screaming and yelling up town. Must be some party going on."

In the ladies' .22 caliber rifle competitions Pat Dawson of Cardston took top honors.

In the 20-yard free hand three-shot competitions, L. Blackburn of Pincher Creek took the prize with a score of 78 plus two.

Intensify Efforts For Pass Iron Ore Project

BLAIRMORE — Another helicopter has made its appearance in Blairmore this week, and it was learned from William Bird, general manager of the West Canadian Collieries, that the Bellcopter is being hired to speed up work on the company's iron ore project.

The helicopter will be in The Pass area for approximately three weeks and was hired from the Okanagan Air Service of Penticton, B.C., for the purpose of completing an entire examination of the area. By using the 'copter the work will be sped up tremendously as the pilot of the plane, Don Poole, can fly the geologists right to the outcroppings of the ore, where tests can be made and samples taken, whereas otherwise the men would have to travel much of the distance by foot.

The geologists doing the work for West Canadian Magnetic Ores Ltd., are J. Detourcy from northern France, and C. Norman of Toronto.

During the past month the companies concerned have increased their interest in the iron ore development three to four times and it has been reported that large quantities of good grade ore have been found.

Reports also indicate that deposits of hematite have been located.

Rifle Shoot Trophies Go Throughout The South

Marksmen from all over South Alberta travelled to the F. Lynch-Staunton ranch 12 miles north of Lundbreck on Farmer's Day to take part in the annual Willow Valley Trophy Club Rifle Shoot, which saw many of the fine trophies carried away to distant points.

To make the event more convenient and pleasant for visitors, the Lundbreck Church Ladies served a tasty dinner and refreshments.

Winners Listed

Winners in the day's events—For .22-calibre rifle, five-man team.—First, Taber team with a score of 568, with each member winning an engraved medal. Second prize in this event was taken by the Wadema team with a score of 564.

In the .22 rifle with iron sight class at 20 yards the winner was Wayne Schmidt of Taber with a score of 59 plus two, while the winner of the .22 calibre rifle with scope sight at 50 yards was Hilton Pharis of Tod Creek with a score of 58 plus two. Winner of the trophy in this contest was Wayne Schmidt of Taber.

Winner of the Jack Reid trophy was Reg Saunders of Taber with a score of 78 plus five, while second was taken by Mike Dawson of Cardston with a score of 78 plus four.

In the ladies' .22 caliber rifle competitions Pat Dawson of Cardston took top honors.

In the 20-yard free hand three-shot competitions, L. Blackburn of Pincher Creek took the prize with a score of 30 plus two.

In the scope sight accuracy match at 150 yards with big game rifle, winner of the trophy was G. Saunders of Taber, who chalked up a score of 10 plus two.

In the iron sight accuracy match at 150 yards with big game rifle, trophy winner was George Dingleville of Cowley, who tallied a score of nine.

In the tight group competitions at 150 yards, with three shots allowed, for the Taber Town and County trophy, first prize was won by Paul Lueh of Taber, who made an eleven-sixteenth inch group and a one and seven-sixteenths inch group to beat out Jack Reid of Cardston, whose groups measured eleven-sixteenths and the second one and ten-sixteenths inches.

In the moving target event at 150 yards with two shots allowed Cliff Luther of Cardston took first prize with a score of nine, while Nick Sekella of Tod Creek took second with a score of six.

Legion Bowlers Suffer Defeat

There was quite an upset on the Coleman sport scene on Wednesday afternoon when a former Coleman boy, James Smith, of New Westminster, B.C., assisted by his brother William J. of Coleman gave a wonderful demonstration of lawn bowling by defeating the ex-champions, James Barkley and Neil Fleming.

The aforesaid J. Smith was trained and coached by George Dickson to attend Olympic games in Australia four years ago.

Wildcat well in Reston district

The first wildcat well in the Reston district in over a year is scheduled to be drilled in the near future on the NW 1/4, 29-7-27, three miles north and one mile west of Reston. The land and mineral rights are owned by Calvin Caldwell.

The new test is being drilled by California Standard on a farm-out from Sun Oil.

An unconfirmed report also has a wildcat test on the farm occupied by Fred Hares in the Ewart district. This will also be a California test.

It is expected that drilling of the Caldwell well will commence when the road ban is lifted.—The Recorder, Reston, Man.—May 9, 1957.

HALF INCH OF RAIN RECEIVED HERE

There was close to a quarter inch of rain here Thursday night, the first moisture since run-off of snow. It was election day last year, June 20 when the dry spell was relieved. Further moisture now would be acceptable but, nothing so far is suffering.

Seeding is about finished with the odd farmer having early seeded fields showing very little sign of life. A few days ago, a light frost cut down some fields that were well above the ground.—The Times, Macklin, Sask., May 2, 1957.

NO ONE WAS HURT—This crash occurred just east of Moosomin in the grey light of dawn, leaving two cars complete wrecks, but leaving no more than light injuries on seven persons in the cars. One car was driven by James Boles, of West Kildonan, who was going east. The other car, heading west, was driven by Detrick Hildebrand, of Herbert, Sask. With Mr. Boles were his wife, Mr. and Mrs. F. Rasmussen and two children.

It costs money to outfit policeman

It costs taxpayers well over $300 to put a police constable on the beat. This was made evident at council meeting Monday when an issue for equipment for a new rookie constable was approved.

This is the list of things required: uniform, $10; cap, $1.50; eight shirts, $10.00; 38 calibre revolver, $57; 1 cap badge, plain clothes badge, Sam Brown belt, pistol holder, cartridge pipe, handcuff case, pair handcuffs, fur cap, $70.75.

In this case it is also issued with uniforms, caps, pea jacket and other unspecified equipment. As these were on hand, no costs for them were included in the approved listing.

In this case the equipment was for Earl Stanley McMurry, whose appointment to the police staff was approved, effective immediately.—The Sun, Swift Current, Sask.—May 8, 1957.

The average adult's stomach, when emptied and contracted, is not much larger than his index finger.

WOMEN'S WORK

Mrs. S. B. Nolles, Provincial Supervisor of the Red Cross Workrooms in Regina reported that two shipments have been sent overseas to the International Red Cross since the first of May. On May 2nd a shipment of 11 cases was despatched to Turkey containing layettes, baby clothes, sheets and pillow cases. On May 15th two cases of quilts were shipped to Austria.

These articles were all made by volunteer women throughout Saskatchewan and packed by volunteers in the Provincial Workrooms in Regina.

Big business in sales of car licenses

One of the boomingest businesses these days in the booming city of Estevan is the sale of license plates for passenger automobiles and trucks.

According to the limited and definitely over-worked staff at the Court House where the license are sold, they are so busy with vehicle licenses they don't have time "to do the regular work properly."—The Mercury, Estevan, Sask.—May 16, 1957.

VALLEY THIRSTS FOR WATER FACT FINDING MISSION TOLD

Water use in the Red River Valley would be doubled if it could be piped into the towns, villages and farms of the valley, the fact-finding mission representing the Arthur Little Company of Boston was told in Morris Friday evening.

And this was on the basis of present population. With water in the valley for commercial and domestic consumption it was predicted that the population would increase ten-fold from the present 40,000 residents of the valley.

The three representatives of the Arthur Little Company toured the valley for four days and found a thirst for water. They visited Altona, Winkler, Carman and Morris. Water, they were told, was still available at the Shoal Lake area would have to be built.

Whether or not farmers would be able to participate in the piping water was a question raised by Reeve C. J. Neufeld of Morris. He felt that a water-by-law would pass easier if this was possible. J. J. Peters, president of the Red River Valley Irrigation Association, felt that the pipeline would develop in the same way as the Manitoba hydro had done.—The Red River Valley Echo, Altona, Man., May 22, 1957.

New salary schedule for county teachers

The salary schedule of teachers in the County of Newell for 1957-58 has now been signed by officials of the teachers association and the county. The basic salary is raised from $2,200 to $2,400 and provision is made in the schedule for sixth year training. A slight increase also is made in the amounts paid to principals and vice-principals for supervision.

It is estimated that the increase in the salary schedule will increase the expenditure in teachers' salaries by some $30,000.

Start R.H. school

The new school at Rolling Hills is underway and will be completed this fall. There will be nine rooms plus gymnasium, lab and so on; it is hoped that classrooms will be ready for occupancy on Sept. 1.

At Rosemary too

County School Committee is now proceeding with plans for building a new school at Rosemary and it is expected that tenders will be called in the near future. Plans call for a seven room building plus gymnasium, lab, shop, home economics and so on. County expects it will have to borrow $100,000 to help pay the cost.

Budget $680,679

The estimate of revenue and expenditure for school purposes in the county was passed last week and amounts to $660,679. The school mill rate has increased by 10 mills over 1956 and now stands at 27. Increase is accounted for by increase in teachers' salaries and government grant decrease of some $50,000 owing to change in assessment standards.

Studies are being taken by the county to find out the advisability of adopting the new textbook rental plan.—The Bulletin, Brooks, Alta.—May 16, 1957.

Cat moults for hide and grows another

Calves and lambs with two heads, noses with no tails, and skunks... When it comes to odd animals, the Eastern Irrigation District certainly has its share.

One day recently Hans Lillehei of Schondra picked up the family cat, an Angora type, and discovered that its fur was coming loose under the side of its tummy.

A couple of days later the nude was loosening at the legs also and pink flesh was exposed. It wasn't long before the cat looked like a rag doll with its hide flapping away.

One morning Hans discovered the denuded cat hiding in the yard and thought it was Mr. Cat in pink hide with fur only at its neck, legs and tail.

Hans tells us the cat suffered not at all. It started to grow fur again and now is completely covered with fine hair.—The Bulletin, Grande Prairie, Alta.—April 26, 1957.

Construction of Regina gas system begins

$15,000 Renovation on hotel underway

The Stanley hotel, one of Winkler's earliest landmarks, is now undergoing a complete renovation inside and out to bring it up to modern standards. Hotel managers made the announcement last week when H. Neufeld & Sons began stuccoing the outside of the building that contracts have been and will be let totalling in the neighborhood of $15,000.

In the interior the floors will be levelled out, all floors will be tiled, rooms will be remodeled and redecorated, new drapes will be installed, a sink with hot and cold running water will be added to every room and additional bathroom facilities will be provided. Included will be various plumbing improvements.

The beer parlor will be completely renovated with acoustic ceiling tiles, new chrome tables and chairs, tiled floors and a large walk-in refrigerator.

The front office and registration desk will also be entirely remodeled to modern tastes and to the hotel's increased volume of business due to the steady growth of the town as a business centre. — The Progress, Winkler, Man., May 8, 1957.

Editorials

from

Canadian Weekly Newspapers

(These are not necessarily the views of the editor of this paper)

Opportunity knocks . . . in the weekly field

(The Clarion, Kindersley, Sask.)

Most weekly newspapers, particularly here on the prairies, began as the practical expression of some printer's yen to get into business for himself. Even as late as the 1920's a weekly newspaper could be started with a very modest capital outlay. A good big platen press and a fair stock of hand type would enable a capable and energetic printer to publish a home town weekly. If he happened to have a gift of business management he might even make a little money at it—no fortune perhaps but a better-than-average living (or more than he could expect to earn setting type and running presses for wages).

Things have changed in many ways. Setting up a weekly plant is a more expensive proposition today—the old hand-set shop, like the quarter-section farm, just isn't an economic unit. Nevertheless weekly newspaper publishing is still one of the businesses small enough for an ambitious young man to aspire to. Today, however, if he hopes to make a success of the weekly publishing game, he had better have a wider range of skills and training. Better methods of transportation have put his commercial printing business in competition with the better equipped, large volume, city shops. The gradual maturing of the journalistic craft in general and the weekly press in particular has led the reading public to demand a higher standard of reporting and writing.

Consequently in recent years young people preparing themselves for a career in weekly journalism, have been looking to college level courses offered at a few universities.

The course offered the Ryerson Institute of Technology have found particular favor because, there, the student can combine training in journalism with training in printing management—a combination considered essential in the weekly field. Now the school is offering a streamlined course tailored especially to the needs of the student aiming at a career in weekly journalism. At the same time, the All Canada Insurance Federation is offering ten $500 bursaries to help students whose financial standing does not match their other qualifications for the course.

To students and parents who are wondering about a career after high school, we recommend weekly journalism, it holds unusual opportunities for service, reasonable hope of material success and better than average security—the practice of horsewhipping or shooting editors has gone out of style.

Crop of promises

(The Herald Tribune, Grande Prairie, Alta.)

The first crop of promises in this political harvest has been taken off by the Social Credit party with a giant "yay" in Toronto. The rally was poorly attended, and fell far short of the organizers' hopes.

That didn't deter the speakers from promising a thirty percent cut in income tax, and thus waving the first car in front of the voter.

The promise of such a reduction is a very alluring one, but it's an obvious sample of political doubletalk. You can't cut taxes in one place without piling them up somewhere else, unless it does to the detriment of the economy. Such an income tax cut, without a parallel increase elsewhere in taxes, would certainly have that effect today.

Nobodys likes to pay income tax, but it's safe to say that most would rather pay it and see the nation's economy stay on a safe keel. And if they know it's merely being given to them with one hand and removed with another, there's little real pleasure offered.

Taxes can't be cut so generously without something suffering. And, if the Social Credit party would reduce them by that much! given power, what department of government would suffer? We cannot afford to slacken our defence effort, nor can we afford to reduce substantially the expenditures of any other department. That much is obvious to most voters.

Thus, if a tax is reduced on one hand, the money must be forthcoming from somewhere else. That's elementary, even to the most ill-formed voter. The Social Credit party would be paying the voters more of a compliment by talking to them as though they—the voters—were possessed of a few wits.

Criminal garbage disposal

(The Province, Innisfail Alta.)

Each spring, as heavy snows melt on fields and pastures, hundreds of farmers just off the highways find that during the winter, large collections of garbage have been strewn over their property by the worst possible type of vandals.

Unfortunately proving this criminal offence against any particular vandal is a difficult task seldom accomplished. Naturally, too, the farmers must clean up the mess before they can get on with the task of spring plowing and planting.

There is no doubt that the people so freely scattering garbage over farm and range property would be the first to "fly into a rage" if man or beast so much as stepped on their front lawn or garden patch.

The combined collections of garbage and debris thrown in unsightly piles on farm lands and in road allowances would cover hundreds of acres. Clearing away the mess takes the time on the part of the farmer, which would better be used in production work.

Dumping garbage and debris on farm land is one of the lowest, meanest and most vicious types of vandalism. It is an offence that should be punished by fine and jail term.

Smiles are getting tiresome

(The Mercury, Estevan, Sask.)

For some time now a custom has been in vogue that might well be commented upon. It would seem that four out of five people who face cameras for pictures for the press consider it necessary to smile or at least show some degree of levity in their expression.

Why they should do this is anybody's guess. Press photographers have long since discarded the phrase "smile and look pleasant please."

Actually to see day after day the passing line-up of smiling, grinning, smirking faces gets more and more tiresome, for everyone knows that the pose is unnatural and assumed in all but a few cases. It seems that these latter few who have genuinely and continuously happy features are being deprived of their real claim to attraction by being mixed in with the artificialists and the fakirs.

Maybe everyone is entitled to the opinion that he or she must look natural, and we hope that many who are caught smiling by the photographer are not as natural as they look.

The last generation of politicians have fallen for this smiling stuff. Whether or not they think it has a stronger electoral appeal than the old baby-kissing routine, matters little. Some of them look plain silly. How anybody, thinking of voting for a sensible businessman type of candidate can poll a vote for such a smile is a conundrum.

Those with prominent front teeth would be well advised to gather up all their "smilers" and get a sensible picture taken. There are those whose smiles are long and deep like Joey Brown's but we do not think that even that would get them a job in Hollywood.

Then there are those whose little smile makes you wonder whether they are unsure of themselves or whether in a superior way they are inwardly concluding that in their opinion you are a sap.

A smile can be a dazzling thing and maybe some of these modern politicians have found that out. If so electors should make it a point to find what and how much is behind the smile.

The entertainment world is about the only place where applicants for jobs are expected to smile. It goes with the profession. Any other form of business or profession expects applicants to be—pleasant, yet—but serious in their manner of approach.

The job of being a people's representative is a serious job, or should be. The smiling politician, as pictured, could give the impression that he thinks it is just a bit of fun.

No one ever expected Sir Winston Churchill to smile in his election approach, but then he did not find it necessary to try to look pleasant.

Maybe there are others in the political field who would carry more weight if they looked natural and refrained from smiling every time a flash bulb goes off.

There is nothing quite as pleasing as the smile that is in harmony with the facial expression as a whole, yet there is nothing quite as attractive to study as the serious face which reveals the true character.

Perhaps you will agree

(The Press, Acton, Ont.)

Looking back after spending 18 years or so on school boards the following item from the Peterborough Examiner appealed to us with some force and we pass it on.

"Democracy attempts to do all that can be done to equalize opportunity. We do that by providing schools for all who can make good use of them. Obviously every one must attend school long enough to learn certain necessary skills. But after that we recommend that children remain in school only if they can satisfy their teachers that they belong there; if they do not work, let them be given fair warning, and then, if they do not improve, let them be dropped from school—with the proviso that they may return later if they truly change their minds and want to do so.

"But cluttering the High Schools with pupils who do not want to work is not democracy; it is a silly form of national self-deception. There is nothing retrogressive in admitting that we overshoot the mark by trying to educate the whole population to High School level. There are great strides to be made by clearing the High Schools—not of everyone who falls below the highest levels, but only of those who show plainly that they do not want to work. Our educational system is not in a stage of frozen perfection; let us recognize mistakes, and face facts as they appear through experience."

The flop heard around the nation

(The Gazette, Grand Forks, B.C.)

We were all set to discuss the Social Creditors offering the people of Canada "pie in the sky" as a pre-election gift—but the quarter of the people who walked out of the Toronto meeting, attended by only 1800 out of a seating capacity of 2500, indicates that Canadians were too smart for the nonsense being given them . . . they saved us the trouble.

We understand the Hon. Diefenbaker, Conservative leader attracted bigger crowds in Social Credit strongholds in the West. So we would suggest that if Canada is to return to a two-party system as Solon Low suggests—that they will—Conservative and Liberal.

Sorry Messrs. Low, Manning and Bennet. You had better take a look around Ottawa this visit back East—you won't be living there.

Street Improvement Program Well Under Way

Coleman's streets are undergoing a major improvement program this last few days.

Considerable grading work has already been done, plus cleaning up of the curb areas. In numerous spots the works department have spread gravel and filled in bad holes. Some hard surfacing is also called for, and when this program is completed the streets will be considerably improved.

Registered Nurses Hold Meeting

The regular June meeting of the Crows Nest Pass Chapter of the A.A.R.N. was held at the home of Mrs. C. Westley with Mrs. Alice Veljapava presiding.

A very concise report on the provincial nurses convention at Banff was given by delegate, Mrs. Jean Ann Fandt.

To date there are only four applications for the Nurses' Scholarship of $50.

Application forms were sent out to all Pass schools in January. Grade XII girls interested in this scholarship are asked to apply. It was reported that three nurses would be leaving the Pass in the next month. They are Mrs. M. Pozzi, and Mrs. Helvie Kubis of Bellevue; and Mrs. Nora Bruning of Blairmore.

The September meeting will be in the form of a weiner roast.

A lovely lunch was served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

New Lights For Main Street

Last Saturday saw the installation of four new vapor lights on the main street.

These lights give off a much improved lighted area as they are more powerful and brilliant.

It is not known how many of these type of lights the town intends to install, but they are certainly an added asset to the public. Considerable number of the towns in the southern part of Alberta have installed these type of lights in the last few years.
